HEALTH HERO NETWORKING:

AGAILARE FINDS A WEB-SOLUTION TO STREAMLINE PRINT & FULFILLMENT PROCESSES

THE SITUATION

Health Hero Networks was outgrowing their ability to service their sales force's need for printed material. They no longer had the time nor desire to handle internal requests for sending out their data sheets, industry articles, company brochures and even trade show materials themselves.

THE SOLUTION

Agilaire took inventory of their documentation, understood their usage and re-order points and built a custom made on-line ordering site whereby users simply log in, select items from a very easy to use menu with actual photos of the pieces and get them sent wherever they need to go. The system makes automatic notifications of inventory so they never run out. Not only does Agilaire manage the inventories, we manage the printing and replenishment of those inventories so the client can concentrate on what they need to, and not have to worry about their support documentation.

"We have worked closely with Agilaire since 2006. They built us a custom, user-friendly website where our sales force and others can order their documentation. It gets warehoused and fulfilled at the click of a mouse and we get reports that slice up the data in a wide array so we can keep firm control of both our spend and usage. They are a pleasure to work with and I would recommend them highly."
